

RE: Medi-Cal Must Prioritize Children

Dear Director Lightbourne and Chief Deputy Director Cooper,

As you know, Medi-Cal is the cornerstone of health care for California's children. Half of the state's children rely on Medi-Cal to meet their health care needs – three quarters of whom are children of color. While many doctors and nurses are doing their very best, overall deficiencies in the Medi-Cal program contribute to health disparities for children across the state, and far too many kids not receiving needed prevention and other health care.

We appreciate that the state is undertaking a revision to the Medi-Cal contracts with health plans worth $4 to $5 billion annually for children's health care. For far too long, these contracts have lacked the accountability and oversight needed to guarantee even the most basic health care needs of children. Simply put, our collective investment in Medi-Cal managed care should work for kids and families, not just health plans.

It is past time for the Medi-Cal managed care program to truly ensure that every enrolled child receives appropriate physical, behavioral, and oral health care at the right time. This will require Medi-Cal contracts to be completely re-written, not simply re-organized or tweaked. An acceptable contract for children's health would establish accountability and payment mechanisms across the range of children's health care services that are: centered on equity; rooted in youth and parent voice; and firmly held to high standards that drive improvement in child health outcomes.

The health care of 5 million Californian children hangs in the balance with the managed care contracts. The Newsom Administration must not miss this critical once-in-a-childhood opportunity to prioritize kids' health in the Medi-Cal contracts.

Sincerely,

The Undersigned Organizations

cc: Dr. Mark Ghaly, Secretary, California Health and Human Services Agency

Kris Perry, Deputy Secretary, California Health and Human Services Agency, and Senior Advisor to the Governor

Richard Figueroa, Deputy Secretary, Office of the Governor

Tam Ma, Deputy Legislative Secretary, Office of the Governor
